Joe Dever is the creator of the bestselling Lone Wolf adventure books and novels.

This file contains photographs of the Lone Wolf miniatures ranges produced by Games Workshop, Alternative Armies, Matchlock Miniatures, and Mongoose Publishing, under license from Joe Dever, and also the Lone Wolf Statuette range from Roger Andrews Studios.

Contributors for Project Aon Editions

This project would have been impossible without the helpful contributions of:

Stuart Bradshaw – photographs of the rare Caliver models and other rarities. Stuart’s help has been invaluable in producing this document.

Nick Cooper – photographs of the ultra-rare Viveka miniature.

Andy Harris – scan of the purple-tinted Games Workshop flier.

Sue Kesby and the Blue Mule – scans of fliers and advertisements for the Games Workshop range. Sue and the Blue Mule also maintain a website dedicated to miniatures.

Tony Mansfield – scans of the Games Workshop range of miniatures and packaging of the “Giak Attack” Boxed Set.

Conor McMullin – photographs of the Alternative Armies range of Lone Wolf miniatures.

Simon Osborne – some scans, graphic editing, creator and maintainer of this document.

Additional research, assistance, and editing provided by Laurence O’Toole and LeRoy McSwain.

Special thanks to Roger Andrews for his generous help providing photographs of the Lone Wolf figurines.

Distribution of this Internet Edition is restricted under the terms of the Project Aon License.

Effort has been made to display the information as close to the originals as possible. Although this has not been possible for all things—for example, the actual fonts used—the result is as close to the originals as they could be.

Scans of the original packaging have been coloured consistently. In some instances, this has resulted in a higher quality output than found in the originals.

Games Workshop Fliers

The advert on this page is from the Citadel Miniatures Third Compendium (November 1985). The one on the following page is from the December 1984 Christmas Releases flier. Sue Kesby, who scanned these fliers for us, explains:

"As pictorial sources for Citadel figures go, there were five A5 catalogues produced between 1979 and 1983. In October 1983, the First Citadel Compendium was published in the UK (with incredibly accurate sketches instead of photos). The US First Compendium followed in November, 1983, naturally lacking the Cit/Partha section. In mid-1984, Citadel made the Big Move to a new factory, stopped producing most of their older figures, and brought out the Arcane Listings with pictures of all surviving models. Apart from the New Release fliers and the pages of White Dwarf, the Compendiums (Second Compendium October 1984, Third Compendium November 1985) are the main pictorial sources for figures produced at that time. Starting in Spring 1985, "Journals" were produced at intervals – a sort of update for the Compendiums with pictures of several months' worth of new releases."

Note the three mistakes on this advertisement: "Nidnuks" should obviously be "Noodnics", "Vonatar" should be "Vonotar", and "Young Thaumaturist" should be "Young Thaumaturgist". Additionally, other advertisements, such as the ones found in the Lone Wolf Club Newsletters also label this novice magician as "Banedon".

Andy Harris also contributed a copy of the advertisement on the following page, only printed with deep purple ink instead of black. We think this originated at Games Day 1985, though we cannot be entirely sure. Each advert on the following two pages again lists "Vonotar" as "Vonatar" and "Noodnics" as "Nidnuks", but there are also three additional typos: "Thaumatargist" should be "Thaumaturgist", "Helgast" should instead be "Helghast", and "Prince Pelethar" should be "Prince Pelathar".

This advertisement for the “Giak Attack” Boxed Set also comes from the Third Citadel Compendium (November 1985). Note two more mistakes: “Gorgaz” should obviously be “Gourgaz”, and “Sir Pelethor” should be “Prince Pelathar”.

Following Page:

This advertisement for the “Giak Attack” Boxed Set is from the Spring 1985 Citadel Journal, published by Games Workshop. For once, there is no mislabelling – but then again, there are no labels!

Once again, we thank Sue Kesby and the Blue Mule for their help in sourcing these rare advertising images.

The second advertisement appeared in the rear pages of the first edition of Flight from the Dark, Fire on the Water, and War of the Wizards, by Joe Dever and Ian Page. The third appeared in the rear of the first editions of both The Chasm of Doom and Shadow on the Sand by Joe Dever. The fourth, which contains a price-hike for the miniatures, appeared in the first edition of The Forbidden City by Joe Dever and Ian Page.

(Note that all three of the text adverts use the inaccurate term: “A unique range . . . are now available.” Since replacing ‘are’ with ‘is’ creates another problem, whereby the text seems to indicate that the whole range can be bought for 40 or 60 pence, this has been left unchanged.)

Alternative Armies Miniatures Range

This range of Lone Wolf models was produced by Alternative Armies between 1990 and 1993, sculpted by Gary Morley. Lone Wolf Club Newsletter #17 stated: "Initially, twelve Lone Wolf Grand Master figures have been planned, but more will follow on a regular basis. First releases are scheduled for November 1990." However, according to Malcolm Coxhead, creator and proprietor of Alternative Armies from 1990–97, only the first three models of Lone Wolf were ever released in this range. Unreleased models such as Lord Rimoah, Arch Druid Cadak, and Warlord Magnaarn, were sculpted by Conor McMullin. The range of models produced was at the standard 25mm scale used in role-playing. Alternative Armies also maintain a website where players can buy their latest range of miniatures and products.

"Alternative Armies online – no nonsense wargaming, just large ranges of quality miniatures, easy to play rule sets, and superb value for money."—Taken from the company's website.

Recognise these star-crossed lovers? These are the sculptures of Grey Star and Tanith, stars of the World of Lone Wolf series of gamebooks written by Ian Page. This exclusive photograph comes to us courtesy of their sculptor, Conor McMullin. Conor writes:

“When I was younger I had started reading and was hooked on Fighting Fantasy gamebooks. Then I discovered the Lone Wolf gamebooks and then the Grey Star books, and got really into them. I met Joe Dever at a games convention and showed him some figures I had sculpted from scratch. I was, needless to say, really honoured when he asked me if I would sculpt a couple of figures for him.

“Some time after sculpting the figures for Lone Wolf, I sculpted figures of Grey Star the Wizard and Tanith. They were done to the same scale as the Lone Wolf figures. These were sculpted only for fun and not for anything in particular. They have sat in a box for very many years, so I thought it'd be nice to share them.”

Many thanks to Conor for sharing these ultra-exclusive sculptures with the Lone Wolf community.

Matchlock Miniatures Range

This range of Lone Wolf models was produced by Matchlock Miniatures between 1994 and 1996. They also took over production of the Alternative Armies range of Lone Wolf miniatures prior to releasing their own. The range of models produced was at both the standard 25mm scale, and also the 15mm scale—models used in wargaming. Although part of Caliver Books, the company maintains a dedicated website called Miniature Figurines. We are still looking for photographs to have a complete illustrated guide to this particular range. As of 2014, Matchlock are releasing a new range of 32mm figures based on the Lone Wolf books.

“Caliver Books is a real shop, with thousands of titles and other goods in stock for immediate delivery—unlike some other online book sites which make you wait, sometimes for weeks. We pride ourselves on our exceptional standards of service, and if we don't have the book you want on the premises, then we shall let you know immediately and advise you of the expected delay. Most titles can be despatched within 24 hours.”—Taken from the company's website.

Alyss

This enigmatic goddess appears in Lone Wolf 19: Wolf's Bane and the Legends of Lone Wolf novels.

Very rare, this is one of only 240 figures released commercially. Sculpted c.1991 by Phil Lipton. Copyright Joe Dever. Casting produced under limited licence by Caliver Miniatures.

Banedon

WIZARD BANEDON—friend and ally to Lone Wolf in the first epic gamebook adventure: Flight from the Dark.

Sculpted in 1991 by Phil Linton. Copyright Joe Dever. Produced by Caliver Miniatures. This version of Banedon was a test casting that was never released for sale to the public. One of only 24 models cast.

Fearsome Giak

FEARSOME GIAK—a mainstay soldier in the armies of the Darklords of Helgedad—Lone Wolf's mortal enemies.

Sculpted in 1991 by Alan Perry. Copyright Joe Dever. Produced by Caliver miniatures. Less than 250 of this version of a Giak soldier were ever released for sale to the public.

Arch Druid Cadak

The hated leader of the Cener Druids and Lone Wolf's evil adversary in The Plague Lords of Ruel, the first of Lone Wolf Grand Master series. He is here depicted wielding his staff of power.

Very rare, this is a test casting and was never released commercially. Only 10 were ever made. Sculpted c.1991 by Conor McMullin. Copyright Joe Dever. Test casting produced under limited licence by Caliver Miniatures.

Warlord Magnaarn

Fearsome Drakkarim leader and hated adversary of Lone Wolf in the third of the Grand Master series of Lone Wolf gamebook adventures: The Darke Crusade, Magnaarn is here depicted wielding the Doomstone of Darke.

Very rare, this is a test casting and was never released commercially. Only 6 were ever made. Sculpted c.1991 by Conor McMullin. Copyright Joe Dever. Test casting produced under limited licence by Caliver Miniatures.

20 Figures (unspecified)

According to Lone Wolf Club Newsletter #26: "Matchlock have taken over production of the existing A[lt]ernative A[rmies] Lone Wolf figures, and they are currently designing and preparing a further 12 figures which should be available early next month (Jan '94)." A few months later, Lone Wolf Club Newsletter #27 revised this number to a range of 'more than 20 figures' in production.

It is likely that the majority of these were never released, and some may not even have been sculpted, though there may be a few other prototypes in the hands of collectors. Possibly these would include figures originally slated for release in the Alternative Armies range, such as Lord Ixiataaga, Lord Rimoah, Drakkarim Death Knight, and Acolyte of Vashna.

One such figure can be seen on the following pages. Nick Cooper, who trades in old and rare miniatures, contacted Project Aon with images of a figure that seems to be of a Lone Wolf character. Inscribed on the underside of the base of the figure are the words: '© Lone Wolf 1994 Viveka'. The year indicates it to be a Matchlock Miniature figure rather than Alternative Armies, but nothing else is known about the history of the miniature or who sculpted it.

Viveka

Viveka, the female warrior, appears briefly in the second Lone Wolf adventure Fire on the Water. Her background and personality was greatly increased in the Legends of Lone Wolf novelisations where she became a semi-regular character.

15mm Armies (Unreleased)

Lone Wolf Club Newsletter # 27 contained the following information: "In addition to expanding the 25mm range of Lone Wolf miniatures, Matchlock are also working on two Lone Wolf armies in 15mm scale, Giaks and Sommlending, with special Drakkarim and Kai Lords command packs." Mention was also made of a set of tabletop wargame rules for use with these miniatures. Neither the rules nor the miniatures were ever released, and it is likely that few, if any, of the miniatures were ever sculpted.

1. Giaks
2. Sommlending
3. Drakkarim Command Pack
4. Kai Lords Command Pack

New 32mm Range (2014)

Mongoose Publishing Miniatures Range

This range of Lone Wolf models was produced by Mongoose Publishing, makers of the Lone Wolf RPG. The range of models was produced at the standard 25mm scale used in role-playing, and was sculpted by Bobby Jackson.

*"Based in Swindon, UK, Mongoose Publishing was founded in 2001 and within 6 months became the UK's largest publisher of role-playing games. Initially concentrating on d20 based products, Mongoose Publishing's first book was the Slayer's Guide to Hobgoblins, part of the Slayer's Guide series of books. Subsequent product lines followed in rapid succession. Mongoose Publishing's miniatures games and role-playing games continue to provide gamers with fantastic worlds in which to immerse themselves, and the company has become a recognised force in the world of hobby games."*—Taken from the company's website.

Lone Wolf Statuettes by Roger Andrews Studios

In 1992, Joe Dever approached Roger Andrews with a view to producing some collectable commemorative figurines based on characters from the Legends of Lone Wolf series. We contacted Roger Andrews, and he was kind enough to take some exclusive photographs of the figurines from his collection of originals. We also asked him a few questions about the range of figurines.

“It was a fairly open ended agreement I had with Joe Dever to produce the figures and I would have produced more if they had sold a little more profusely. I was working on a sixth figure when other horizons beckoned. The figure was going to be Vonotar, if I remember rightly I also had a battle diorama in mind with Lone Wolf in a death struggle with one of the Darklords.”

Grand Master Lone Wolf

With the original run of the Grand Master Lone Wolf figurine came a Certificate of Authenticity. We asked Roger what the certificate contained.

“I cannot find any Certificates or samples thereof but it would have been something to the effect ‘This sculpture is created from an original cast by me at my studio in the Vale of Glamorgan etc., etc. . . .’ and then I used to sign them and send them to Joe for his signature when he would send them off to the buyer.

On the subject of the Lone Wolf range of figurines, he told us:

“I still get asked occasionally for Lone Wolf figurines but the moulds are getting really brittle now and it isn’t worth remoulding for the odd order that might come through.

“I hope this helps and thanks for the interest. If you want me to take some photos of my originals for you just ask—it would be a pleasure to contribute.”

Roger Andrews Studios maintains a website with examples of his work, and is accepting commissions for sculptures and figurines. On the following page is an advert for Grand Master Lone Wolf from Role-player Independent #3 (February 1993). (ERRATA: Replaced ‘Britains’ with ‘Britain’s’, ‘each fully’ with ‘each, fully’, ‘surcharge.’ with ‘surcharge.’, ‘hand painted’ with ‘hand-painted’, and ‘address it’ with ‘address, it’.)

The works distributed under the collective title Lone Wolf Club Newsletters—which are composed of, in part, portions of the above named works—will also be distributed under the terms of this License.

'Internet Editions' shall not refer to any other works by the Authors, nor any other illustrations by the Illustrators unless the Authors or Illustrators amend this License. 'Internet Editions' shall refer solely to the text and illustrations of the above works when made available through the Internet.

1.5
'Licensee' shall hereafter refer to any person or electronic agent who receives some portion or all of the Internet Editions. The 'Licensee' shall hereinafter be referred to as 'Licensee' or 'you'.

1.6
'Distribution Point' shall hereafter refer to the specific Internet site or sites to which the Authors and Illustrators have granted rights to distribute the Internet Editions.

1.7
'Maintainer' shall hereafter refer to the person or persons who are responsible for the maintenance of the Distribution Point.

2. Terms of Distribution

2.0
The terms of this License are limited to the distribution of the Internet Editions. No other form of distribution is covered under the terms of this License.

2.1
The Authors and Illustrators grant you the right to receive a copy or copies of the Internet Editions from the Distribution Point at no charge provided that you agree to all of the terms and obligations of this License. If you do not agree to all of the terms and obligations of this License, you are not granted any rights by this License.

You agree to be bound by the terms and obligations of this License by the act of receiving or viewing a copy of any portion of the Internet Editions even though you have not signed a written document. Indeed, you have no right to receive or view a copy or copies without first accepting this License as legally valid and binding and agreeing to the terms and obligations of this License.

You agree to refrain from redistributing the Internet Editions in any form, electronic or otherwise, to any other person or persons for any reason by any means. You are granted the right to receive a copy or copies only for your own personal use.

This License does not collectively grant any rights to corporations or groups of individuals when regarded as one legal entity. This License exclusively grants rights to private individuals.

Redistribution includes but is not limited to displaying the Internet Editions within the graphical representation of an Internet site other than the Distribution Point. This prohibition includes but is not limited to the use of HTML 'frames'.

An exception to the restrictions on redistribution in this section is made in that you may send the Internet Editions or derivative works thereof to the Distribution Point by the consent of the Maintainer.

2.3
The Authors and Illustrators retain all other rights to their respective portions of the Internet Editions not covered by this License. The Authors or Illustrators may, at any time, without notice and without need to show due cause, revoke the rights granted to you by this License to their respective portions of the Internet Editions.

2.4
If a person is under the legal age to be able to enter into a contractual relationship as defined by the laws of the area in which that person resides, they may have a parent or legal guardian agree to be bound by the terms and obligations of this License. On condition of agreeing to be bound by the terms of the License, that same parent or legal guardian may thereafter give a copy or copies of the Internet Editions to that child. That parent or legal guardian is thereafter legally responsible to ensure that that child behaves in accordance with all of the terms and obligations of this License.

The authority of a parent or legal guardian to distribute the Internet Editions does not extend to the distribution of the Internet Editions to any other person or persons except his or her child or legal dependent.

3. Termination of the License

3.0
If for any reason you are unable to comply with any of the terms and obligations of this License, you agree to destroy all copies of the Internet Editions of which you have control within fourteen calendar days after the first violation.

3.1
If any of the Authors or the Illustrators revokes your rights granted under this License, you agree to destroy all copies of the Authors' or Illustrators' work which is a part of the Internet Editions of which you have control within fourteen calendar days of receiving notification in any form.

4. Jurisdiction

4.0
If, in consequence of court judgement or the laws of a particular area, any portion of the License is held as invalid or unenforceable in any particular circumstance, you are no longer granted any rights under the terms of this License in that circumstance. You agree to act in accordance with section 3.0 for all copies of the Internet Editions for which the License is held as invalid or unenforceable as if you had violated the terms and obligations of the License. The License is intended to remain in force in all other circumstances.

5. Revision of the License

5.0

The Authors and the Illustrators may publish revisions of this License in the future to address new concerns. Any further revisions will be legally binding at the time that you receive notification in any form of the revision.

6. NO WARRANTY

6.0

BECAUSE THE INTERNET EDITIONS ARE LICENSED FREE OF CHARGE, THERE IS NO WARRANTY FOR THE INTERNET EDITIONS, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW. EXCEPT WHEN OTHERWISE STATED IN WRITING THE COPYRIGHT HOLDERS OR OTHER PARTIES PROVIDE THE INTERNET EDITIONS "AS IS" WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EITHER EXPRESSED OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, THE IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE. THE ENTIRE RISK AS TO THE QUALITY OF THE INTERNET EDITIONS IS WITH YOU. SHOULD THE INTERNET EDITIONS PROVE DEFECTIVE, YOU ASSUME THE COST OF ALL NECESSARY REPAIRS.

IN NO EVENT UNLESS REQUIRED BY APPLICABLE LAW OR AGREED TO IN WRITING WILL ANY COPYRIGHT HOLDER OR MAINTAINER BE LIABLE TO YOU FOR DAMAGES, INCLUDING ANY GENERAL, SPECIAL, INCIDENTAL OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES ARISING OUT OF THE USE OR INABILITY TO USE THE INTERNET EDITIONS (INCLUDING BUT NOT LIMITED TO LOSS OF DATA OR DATA BEING RENDERED INACCURATE OR LOSSES SUSTAINED BY YOU OR THIRD PARTIES OR A FAILURE OF THE INTERNET EDITIONS TO OPERATE WITH ANY PROGRAMS), EVEN IF SUCH HOLDER OR OTHER PARTY HAS BEEN ADVISED OF THE POSSIBILITY OF SUCH DAMAGES.
